

Let's revise the use of SHOULD and HAVE TO Match the problems to the advice

- 1 All the flowers in my garden are dead! ____
 - 2 My friends don't have to make their beds in the morning, but I do. It isn't fair! ____
 - 3 I hate my mum's cooking! Her food is terrible!
 - 4 I have to clean the car this afternoon, but I want to go out with my friends.
 - 5 I can't find anything in my bedroom!
- a Maybe you should help her and suggest some new recipes.
 - b You should clean it now. Then you can go out later!
 - c You shouldn't make such a mess! You should tidy your room more often.
 - d You should water your plants more often.
 - e You shouldn't complain about it. Your friends probably have other jobs to do.

Use the correct form of HAVE TO or SHOULD to complete Hannah's letter and Tracy's reply.

Dear Tracy,

I need your advice. My sister and I have to do (do) lots of jobs at home. In the morning I

1 (walk) the dog before school.

My sister 2 (take out) the rubbish and prepare breakfast. When we get home, we

3 (tidy) the house. But our younger brother 4 (not do) any housework. He can watch TV and listen to music in the evening, but I 5 (do) my homework before bed. It's not fair!

Hi Hannah,

You should talk (talk) to your parents and your brother about this problem.

Arrange a time when you can all discuss this together. You and your sister 6 (make) a list of the jobs you do in the house.

Maybe you can think of one or two simple chores for your brother. You

7 (not get)

angry with your parents, but you

8 (stay) calm

and polite.

Now, let's work on listening!

Listen to the teacher. What is he talking about? Choose the correct option

- a. a science club b. a cooking club c. a drama club
