

FLYERS - PART 7

‘There’s a lot of snow. The man can’t drive his son to school. The boy has an idea. He puts on his skis and skis to school’. (27 words)

There’s a lot of snow in the mountains where Harry lives. Harry’s dad can’t drive him to town. Harry puts on his boots and skis and skis down the hill to school. (32 words)

There’s a lot of snow in the mountains where Harry lives. Harry’s dad can’t drive him to town today because there’s too much snow. First, Harry puts on his skis and then he skis down the hill to school. He’s really happy now. (43 words)

There’s a lot of snow in the mountains where Harry lives. Harry’s dad says “Sorry Harry. I can’t drive you to town today because there’s too much snow.” Suddenly, Harry has an idea. “I’ll ski to school!” First, he puts on his skis and then he skis down the hill to school. He’s really happy now. “What a great way to go to school!” he thinks. (66 words)

