Life fifty years from now (Toby, 15)

Fifty years from now I'll be very old! I'll probably be married and I think I'll have two or three children - and maybe some grandchildren too! I don't think I'll work because I'll be 65, so I'll probably have time for all my hobbies and interests. I think I'll travel to all the countries I've never visited, and I'll play golf.

Fifty years from now my town will probably be quite different. I think it will be much bigger. There will be more people, and more cars. I don't think it will be nicer, because people will build more houses, not more parks. It will probably be noisier and more polluted.

What will the world be like fifty years from now? I don't think it will be very different. People will still have wars, and some people won't have enough food and water. Most people in the world will probably speak English. But I don't think schools will be the same - people will probably study with computers, not teachers!
