READING

- Read the following text written by Max and write true (T) – false (F) – doesn't say (DS)

I have too many clothes. I have many clothes I've only worn once. Sometimes I even find something at the back of a drawer that I never even wore. I bought it, put it away, and then forgot about it. I'm sure I don't need so many clothes. I don't think anyone really needs 11 pairs of jeans and 32 sweaters. I won't tell you how many pairs of shoes I've got. That's way too embarrassing. The simple truth is I love clothes and I love shopping. Maybe I have a problem. I'm sure I'll be a lot richer if I don't buy so many clothes. I like brands, so the clothes I buy are quite expensive. One day I'm going to have a big clear-out. I'll take all the clothes I no longer wear and give them to charity.

- Max has worn all his clothes more than twice.
- Max has clothes he never wore.
- He bought most of his clothes.
- He thinks it is necessary to have many clothes.
- He says everyone needs to buy many clothes.
- Max loves clothes and shopping.
- Max states his wealth is not affected by buying so many clothes.
- He likes expensive clothes.
- Max is going to sell everything he doesn't wear anymore