SIMPLE PAST VS PAST CONTINUOUS

PAST SIMPLE

We use the Past Simple to:

*talk about a simple finished action in the past.

E.g I bought a jumper yesterday

*talk about repeated actions in the past.

E.g I phoned you five times last night

*talk about a sequence of events in the past.

E.g I unlocked the door, opened it and turned on the light.

We don't normally use the continuous form with feeling verbs, thinking verbs or sense verbs.

We DON'T USE the continuous form with the verbs be, belong, contain, cost or own

PAST CONTINUOUS

We use the Past Continuous to:

*describe a scene in the past

E.g it was raining and there was nobody walking in the street.

*describe an action that was interrupted by another.

E.g. We were talking until the teacher came into the classroom.

WHEN / WHILE

We can use either when or while before the Past Continuous. E.g. The taxi arrived when / while I was saying 'goodbye' to my parents.

We don't use while before the Past Simple. We can use when. E.g. I was saying 'goodbye' to my parents when the taxi arrived.
