How important is it to have friends?

According to research, having a rich network of friends can make you live longer. Whether you hit it (1) _____ immediately or your friendship grows over years, friends will make you feel happy. But friends can do much more than this. A (2) _____ friend will give you the (3) _____ you need in order to do your best, help you reduce stress and (4) _____ you through life's challenges.

Don't expect too much of your friends and be prepared to (5) _____ them if they make a mistake.

Remember that nobody is perfect. The best advice that I ever heard was 'be the friend you (6) _____ like to have', so you should behave in a way that you would like others to behave. In that way you're sure to attract people who (7) _____ you and who you can (8) _____ on.
