

Object pronouns 1

1. Copy these class notes in your notebook:

We use object pronouns:

- After the verb:

Direct object (Od): I love her.
She likes me.

Indirect object (Oi): I told him the truth.
He gives us a lot of homework.

- After a preposition:

Indirect object (Oi): I have bought a present for you.
I've written a letter to them.

Other prepositions: Don't worry about it.
Come with us!
Can I come with you?

2. Fill in the gaps with an object pronoun.

- a) This exercise is confusing for _____. I find it very difficult.
- b) We are going to the cinema. Would you like to come with _____?
- c) I have an exam tomorrow, but I'm not ready for _____!
- d) This is easy for _____ because you studied it last year.
- e) Hello, were you talking about _____? I hope it was something nice!
- f) If you see Mary, tell _____ that I need to speak to _____, please.
- g) Those puddles are too big, we'll have to walk around _____. (puddle = charco)
- h) David is so funny! With _____ you are never bored. I love hanging out with _____!
- i) When you are feeling depressed, a good friend can cheer _____ up.
- h) War is horrible. Everyone is afraid of _____.
- j) I have to learn these class notes. I have already read _____ ten times!
- k) I have invited my cousin and her friends to my birthday. I like _____ all.
- l) My classmates and I are happy. Our teacher Juan José hasn't emailed _____ any homework today! But I am a bit worried about _____: maybe he has caught the virus.
- m) Sponge Bob and Patrick Star are my favourite cartoon characters. I love _____!