

Interrogative Pronouns

(a) 'Who' versus 'Whom'

The boy gives the list to his mother.

subject verb

comes before
verb

object

comes after
verb

Who gives the list to his mother?

If the answer
is a subject

To whom does the boy give the list?

If the answer
is an object

(b) Which
Which shoes do you like,
the green ones or the red ones?

asking for information
specifying one or more people or things from a definite set

Choose the correct interrogative pronouns.

1. Who / Whom / Which did Amy meet just now? Amy met Tom just now.
2. Who / Whom / Which met Tom just now? Amy met Tom just now.
3. Who / Whom / Which did you buy, a shirt or a cap?
4. Who / Whom / Which won the competition, Ann or Ana?
5. For who / whom / which does Dad buy the watch?
6. Who / Whom / Which buys the watch for Tony?
7. With who / whom / which did you go to the movies last week?