

Final Test Overview - BETS!

1. With your partner, decide why these sentences are wrong and fix the mistakes.

1. I don't know John for long, but he seems nice.
2. I didn't know John for long, but he seems nice.
3. Wind farms have constructed all around the city at the moment.
4. I'm going out as soon as I will send this email.
5. The rice should cook over a low heat.
6. Students often make to do hours and hours of homework.
7. If I study hard, I will passing the test with no problems
8. I tend don't stay up late.
9. I tend to not staying up late.
10. In March 1998, it seemed as Marcelo Rios was about to become the world's best tennis player.
11. In March 1998, it seemed to be Marcelo Rios was about to become the world's best tennis player.
12. He has reached the final of the Australian Open just few weeks before, and had been unlucky loser.
13. He was playing many better tennis than most of his rivals.
14. If he manage win a Grand Slam tournament.
15. Unfortunately, however, in the seasons that followed he picked up a lot of injuries, and by 2004, at the age of only 28, he was forcing to retire.
16. He should be a lot more successful in his career.
17. I can't get used to live this way.
18. The expedition was a complete fail.
19. We should modern the police force.
20. A local company has been traditional over by a multinational.
21. The battery's dead. Put it in to charging station it.