

❑ The process of a liquid changing into a gas. The sun heats the water in dams, oceans, rivers & lakes. It rises into the sky & is called

❑ When water falls back to the Earth, it falls back into rivers, dams, lakes, oceans & onto the ground. When falling onto the ground it into the ground. Some runs over the soil & comes together in oceans, lakes, rivers/ dams. This process of water coming together is called

❑ The water cycle is important because it provides to all plants, animals & people on earth.