READING

1. Listen and Read the conversation, choose the correct answer

- Ray: Jen! Remember me? From City College?
- Jen: Oh, hi, Ray! Sorry, I didn't recognize you at first. You shaved your beard off.
- Ray: Yeah. I got/ did it shaved last year.
- Jen: And you highlighted/had highlights done. You look great!
- Ray: Thanks. My wife says I look younger, and I would have done it years ago.
- Jen: Oh, are you married? Congratulations!
- Ray: Yes, since last year. Thanks! My wife's name is Connie, and she's a singer.
- Jen: She sounds glamorous. But you should tell/have told me earlier!
- Ray: Sorry. I would have told you, but I lost your email address. Anyway, what's new with you? Are you still living in the city?
- Jen: No. I just came here today to get my hair permed/perm. I live in the suburbs.

3. Listen and read the following text and answer the questions:

Ellen looked great at the party. She was wearing a gorgeous yellow dress. She had it made by a famous fashion designer, and it looked perfect on her but she would have looked better if she had worn some earrings. I wonder when she's going to have her ears pierced.

She had her hair cut by Jean Jacques at the salon. He trimmed it about an inch. And she had her nails done there. They were bright red! Her hair was red, too. The problem is, she dyed it herself. Personally. I think she should have had Jean Jacques do it. Luckily, Jean Jacques did her hair very nicely. So, despite the badly-dyed red hair, she was definitely one of the most glamorous people that night.
