IV. READ AND ANSWER THE QUESTIONS.

Today is Saturday, I am taking a long walk. And I notice during my walk so many things while I am walking, there are many children playing in the parks. They are smiling, it feels like they are happy. I see people, friends and family in restaurants. They are eating happily. There are also people taking by their hands. They are in love; they are kissing one to each other. It feels love in the air. I see sad things, too. For example, I see poor people. They are sitting on the streets, they are asking for some money. I see little children with their sad faces. They are working. They are selling some candy on the streets.
