

A. Complete each part of the diagram with examples of processes you can think of and processes that you've read in the text.

