A Lovely Treat

Last Thursday, two dozen Class 4 pupils of Excelsior Primary School enjoyed a special treat. The pupils, accompanied by six parents and their teacher, Mrs. Mason, went on an island tour.

At the scheduled time of 8.00 o'clock, three brightly-coloured, open-backed vehicles rolled into the school's car park.

Alerted by the unmistakable crunch of tyres on the gravel, Jomo Eyesus glanced towards the car park and cried, "Yes! They're here!"

"Yippee!" the class responded in unison.

Then Jomo, the form captain, darted off to inform their principal, Mrs. Smith, of the wonderful news.

Next there was a visit to the washroom, followed by roll call and a brief reminder about the need for exemplary behaviour. After this, the children eagerly climbed into the vehicles and set off. Feeling totally at ease, they prepared to savour every moment of this much anticipated excursion.
