

The Spanish Civil War

Sarah: Hi Kate. You look so pale. Didn't you sleep last night?

Kate: No, I spent the whole night working on my essay, but I'm OK. I've stayed up all night lots of times before.

Sarah: Have you finished your essay?

Kate: No, not yet. I'm still working on it. It's about the Spanish Civil War. I've read two articles on it, but I'm still not ready to start writing yet.

Sarah: It's an interesting topic. What have you found so far? Have you found anything interesting?

Kate: Well, it was between the Republicans and the Nationalists, and ended just before World War II.

Actually, it looks like a rehearsal for World War II. I want to read more about it.

Sarah: I remember my World War II essay. I did quite exhaustive research on the topic and wrote a long essay about it. There was so much to read. I even went to the National Library in the city centre.

Kate: You handed in your essay last term, right?

Sarah: Yes, I did. But if you need to do some more research, I'm happy to go with you to the National Library some time.

Kate: Really? That'd be great!

Sarah: No problem. I think I need some coffee. Shall we go and get some for us now?

Kate: Good idea.

Are the statements true, false or doesn't say according to the text?

Complete with letters. (SOLO CON ESTAS LETRAS COMPLETAR (T , F, OR DS)

- 1 It's the first time that Kate has stayed up all night. _____
- 2 Sarah has been tired _____
- 3 Kate finished her essay last night. _____
- 4 The Spanish Civil War has attracted Kate's attention. _____
- 5 Sarah completed her essay. _____
- 6 Sarah has found new more interesting information after writing her essay _____
- 7 Sarah has been to the National Library before. _____
- 8 Sarah and Kate did the essay together _____