

The Spanish Civil War

Sarah: Hi Kate. You look so pale. Didn't you sleep last night?

Kate: No, I spent the whole night working on my essay, but I'm OK. I've stayed up all night lots of times before.

Sarah: Have you finished your essay?

Kate: No, not yet. I'm still working on it. It's about the Spanish Civil War. I've read two articles on it, but I'm still not ready to start writing yet.

Sarah: It's an interesting topic. What have you found so far? Have you found anything interesting?

Kate: Well, it was between the Republicans and the Nationalists, and ended just before World War II. Actually, it looks like a rehearsal for World War II. I want to read more about it.

Sarah: I remember my World War II essay. I did quite exhaustive research on the topic and wrote a long essay about it. There was so much to read. I even went to the National Library in the city centre.

Kate: You handed in your essay last term, right?

Sarah: Yes, I did. But if you need to do some more research, I'm happy to go with you to the National Library some time.

Kate: Really? That'd be great!

Sarah: No problem. I think I need some coffee. Shall we go and get some for us now?

Kate: Good idea.
