Mythical Creatures

A Centaurs were half human and half horse. They were from the mountains and forests of central Greece. They were wild, dangerous beasts – except for one, Chiron, who was an astronomer and a famous teacher of medicine.

B The Phoenix was a beautiful red or purple bird with a long golden tail. It was from India and Egypt. It could burst into flames and could be born again from the ashes. Its tears could heal someone's wounds.

C The Chimera was a weird Greek mythical creature. It was really odd-looking. It had three heads from three different animals. At the front it had a lion's head, in the middle it had a goat's head and its tail was a snake. It was a terrifying creature. It could bite like a lion and it could breathe fire like a dragon from its goat's head.
