

Drag the phrasal verb on top of the one-word verb it can substitute, then write at the end the phrasal verb in the form it needs to be to fit the sentence. If it is already in the correct form write "correct".

- 1. They conducted a study of perceptions of temperature
- 2. The research group are currently investigating the effects of first language on the recall of childhood experiences
- 3. They were finally able to clarify the distinction between learning and acquisition.
- 4. They propose a new model for the description of the universe
- 5. They fail to consider a series of contributing actors
- 6. I indicate several flaws in the methodology
- 7. We intended to examine the stripe distribution in tabby cats
- 8. We contest the statement by Burbrook and colleagues

point out

make clear

put forward

set out

take into account

take issue with

carry out

look into