

LANGUAGE PRACTICE

Should and have to

Grammar Reference page 130

Suggestion

What should I do?

You should try yoga.

You shouldn't eat so much fast food!

Should I drink more water?

Yes, you should.

Obligation

What do I have to do?

You have to read these books.

You don't have to do anything!

Do I have to pay for the class?

No, you don't.

ONLINE
PRACTICE

1 Complete the sentences with should, shouldn't, have/has to, or don't/doesn't have to.

- To be healthy, we should sleep seven or eight hours every night.
- I have a car, so I _____ walk to work. But I still walk for exercise.
- You _____ drink so much soda every day. It's bad for you.
- My sister is really busy. She _____ write ten essays before the semester ends.

2 Match the information to make complete sentences.

- | | |
|---|---|
| 1. We have to pay the fees e | a. before we exercise? |
| 2. Should we warm up _____ | b. to lose weight. |
| 3. You should get some fresh air _____ | c. after a big meal. |
| 4. You shouldn't exercise _____ | d. because you've been indoors all day. |
| 5. You don't have to go on a diet _____ | e. before we take the class. |
| 6. How much do we have to pay _____ | f. to join the gym? |

3 Complete the sentences with should or shouldn't and a verb from the box.

- It's really cold outside. You should wear a coat.
- You don't look very well. Maybe you _____ to the doctor.
- You _____ this movie. It's not very good.
- The phone's ringing. _____ I _____ it?
- It's getting late. We _____ dinner soon.
- You _____ there. The car isn't working very well.

answer drive eat go watch
wear

4 Rewrite the sentences. Use should, have to, or don't have to.

- Don't call me. It's not necessary.
You don't have to call me.
- Drink a lot of water. It's a good idea.

- Exercise every day. It's necessary.

- Don't tell me again. I understand you.

- Take this medicine. It's necessary.
