People had been talking about the wise* man who lived on the top of a mountain and I decided to make the long and difficult journey to visit him.  I arrived at the house, an old servant* met me at the door. 'I would like to see the wise man', I said to the servant.

He smiled and led me inside.  we were walking through the house, he told me a bit about his life.

we reached the back door.

nobody else was in the house. 'But I haven't met the wise man,' I said. He turned to me, looked me in the eye and  said, 'Perhaps you have. With everyone you meet in life – even if they appear unimportant – see each of them as a wise person. They all have something you can learn from'.
