The illustration features a cartoon bee named Buzz with glasses and a stinger, positioned above a large blue speech bubble. Inside the bubble, four lines of text correspond to the commands: 'Touch your mouth', 'Don't touch your nose', 'Touch your ears', and 'Don't touch your eyes'. Each line is preceded by a label (a, b, c, or d) and followed by a small green circle. To the left of the bubble, there are four pairs of children's faces, each with a small green circle next to it. The children are shown performing the actions described in the text: a. touching their mouth; b. touching their nose; c. touching their ears; and d. touching their eyes. A green line connects the text 'Don't touch your nose' to the children in b. and d.
