Writing: Review

1) When you write a review of a book or film, in which order would you put the paragraphs (a-c)?

- Give your overall recommendation to other people.
- Give your opinion, including positive and negative points.
- Give some information on what the book / film is about and why you chose it.

2) Read the review below and write true (T) or false (F).

It was when I saw the TV series Big Brother that I first became interested in reading the book 1984 by George Orwell since the idea of 'Big Brother is watching you' is central to the plot. The book is set in the future (in the year 1984) and focuses on the main character Winston Smith and his struggle to live in a world completely controlled by the government.

I must admit that before I read it, I was sceptical about whether I'd enjoy it. However, one of the strengths of the book is the way the author uses very detailed descriptions of the feelings of the main characters. It is also an extremely gripping story. Once I started reading it, I couldn't put it down, as I really wanted to know what happened in the end. It is not only the story which is totally fascinating, but also the fact that the ideas about government and freedom are still very relevant today, even though it was written over 60 years ago. The only negative thing I would say about the book is that sometimes it is very frightening, especially when you think about the similarities with some aspects of our society. At times, I was shocked by how similar the fantasy world in the book was to our real world.

I would highly recommend this book. It is obvious to me now that everyone should read it. Even if you're not really interested in government and politics, don't be put off. It is a very well-written book, with very believable characters and an exciting plot.

- The story takes place in the past.
- Before reading the book, the writer thought he would definitely enjoy it.
- The writer thinks the plot is very good.
- The writer thinks there are no negative points about the book.
- The writer thinks is only interesting if you like politics.
- The writer writes in a personal way, giving his own opinion.

How to... convey your opinions clearly positive opinions : One of the _____ of the book is the way the author uses very detailed descriptions.

My favourite part of the book is the incredibly sad ending.

Once I started reading it, I couldn't put it _____.

I would highly _____ this book.

negative opinions : The only _____ thing I would say about the book is that sometimes it is frightening.

The main weakness of the book is sometimes it is a bit slow.

Using precise vocabulary : It is also a very _____ story.

It is a very well-written book, with very _____ characters and an exciting plot.

It is written by an incredibly talented writer.
