"Well fancy that, love," she said. "You're not silly. When I was your age I used to worry like that. I've got just the thing for you."

Billy worried about clouds.

some worry dolls for the worry dolls!

Billy told all his worries to the worry dolls. He slept like a log.

Billy used to be a bit of a worrier.

She went into her room and came out holding something. "These are worry dolls," she explained. "Just tell each of them one of your worries and put them under your pillow. They'll do all the worrying for you while you sleep."

He couldn't stop thinking about the dolls – All those worries he'd given them... They must be so worried. It didn't seem fair.

And, after that, Billy didn't worry very much at all.
