6 Present perfect vs Present perfect continuous

22 Choose the correct item.

1 Alice and her friends did/have done/have been doing water sports at the beach for three hours now.

2 Sandra didn't finish / hasn't finished / hasn't been finishing speaking to the travel agent yet.

3 Have you ever gone / been / went to Thailand? I think you'd love it there.

4 Did you speak / Have you spoken / Have you been speaking to the hotel manager about the problems in our room yet?

5 Andy lived / was living / has been living in this neighbourhood since he was a child.

6 Paul once travelled / has travelled / has been traveling across Asia by train.

7 Fred has went / been / gone to the beach. He'll be back by noon.

8 I didn't see / haven't seen / haven't been seeing Frank since he returned from China.

24 Complete the email below by putting the verbs in brackets into the present perfect simple or *the present perfect continuous.

Dear Tim,

Hello from New Delhi, India! I hope you're well. I'm really sorry I 1) haven't called (not/call) you, but my mobile phone doesn't work here. My parents and I 2) _____ (sightsee) around the city for a week now, but we still 3) _____ (not/see) all the attractions the city has to offer. We 4) _____ (take) a tour of the Lotus Temple yesterday. It was amazing! We 5) _____ (not/be) to Akshardham Temple yet, but we plan to go there tomorrow. My dad 6) _____ (travel) a lot, but he says that New Delhi is the most fascinating city he 7) _____ (ever/visit). Right now, I feel exhausted because I 8) _____ (shop) for souvenirs all morning. Actually, I 9) _____ (just/buy) your gift, but I won't tell you what it is! What about you? 10) _____ (you/decide) where to go on your holidays yet?

See you when I get back,

Laura