get get not believe not bully not pass see tell

My friend Joe has had a lot of problems with some boys in his class. They've played some horrible jokes on him, but I don't think he ¹ ll tell anyone about it. He thinks the teachers ² _____ him. The boys are in all his lessons, so every day, he knows he ³ _____ them. Not surprisingly, he doesn't want to go to school and isn't doing his homework. I worry that he ⁴ _____ bad marks. We've got tests next week, and I'm scared that he ⁵ _____ them. The boys have bullied other kids before Joe, so at least I know they ⁶ _____ him forever. It's obvious they ⁷ _____ bored eventually and move on to someone else. But I can't ignore what's happening, so I've decided to tell the teachers. Joe doesn't deserve it, and it needs to stop now.

All together game

The truth or lie game

- Write four sentences about yourself on small pieces of paper. Each sentence must contain the present perfect and never, just, or yet. Some can be true and some can be a lie, or they can all be true, or all be a lie!
- Work in groups of four.
- Each person takes turns to read out one of their sentences. The rest of the group must decide if the sentence is true or a lie. Each correct guess gets one point.
- The team with the most points at the end of the game is the winner.

I've just bought a pet snake.

No, you haven't! I think you're telling a lie.

You're wrong - it's true!
