WRITING

Read each scenario carefully, then decide which phrase you would use for each situation. Write your answer on the line provided.

The teacher keeps talking and talking. Just you think you are following the conversation, they change the topic. What should you say?

The teacher asks you a question but you didn't quite catch all the words. What should you say?

You are trying to complete the follow-up activity but you are having trouble with some parts. What can you say?

WRITING

The class is having a discussion about your favorite football team. How can you add to the conversation?

You are trying to express an idea to your class but you just don't know how to say a certain word. What can you ask?

You are meeting your friends at the mall after school and see a friend of your mother. What would be an appropriate greeting

WRITING

The teacher asks you a question but you don't know what she asked. How can you respond?

What would be an appropriate way to address someone in the morning?

What would be an appropriate response if someone says, "thank you"?