British student, 19, becomes instant superstar in China

UNTIL RECENTLY, her greatest showbusiness moment had been winning £45 in the Undiscovered Youth Talent Contest in the small town of Stroud in Gloucestershire, close to her family home. But now, Mary-Jess Leaverland has found fame in China overnight, following her appearance in a regional TV talent show there.

1 Indeed, thanks to YouTube, she is being talked about not just by her friends at home but the whole world over, and has appeared in TV interviews to discuss her story.

The 19-year-old exchange student won Jiangsu province's equivalent of The X Factor show by singing in Mandarin. And although there are no million-pound record deals on offer as yet, she is discovering what life is like as a superstar. 2 She claims to be enjoying this new-found celebrity status. 'It is really strange, but nice,' she said. 'It was the most exciting thing I have ever done in my life. My friends think it is cool because they just know me as me.'

Mary-Jess, who is fluent in Mandarin and Italian, is studying for a degree in Chinese and Music. As part of her course, she has been spending a year in Jiangsu province. Shortly after she arrived in the country, she took part in a small singing competition for foreigners, which she won. It was through this event that she was talent-spotted for the show Min Xing Chang Fan Tian (the name translates as I Want to Sing to the Stars).

Min Xing Chang Fan Tian is a live competition on Chinese television, though it is broadcast only in Jiangsu province. 3 The show follows a similar format to The X Factor, and has a judging panel of three experts. These are drawn from local record executives and songwriters.

Mary-Jess won first place on Min Xing Chang Fan Tian. To reach the finals, she had sung the Puccini aria O Mio Babbino Caro before performing Sarah Brightman's Time To Say Goodbye. 4 Her winning performance in Mandarin was Yue Guang Ai Ren (Moonlight Lovers), the theme tune to the hit film Crouching Tiger, Hidden Dragon. 'I was the only foreign person in the finals and I still can't believe I won.'

She was rewarded with a cash prize of around £3,000, as well as gaining a trophy and a CD recording of herself. 5 'If I hadn't won, I wouldn't have been able to come home for Christmas because I wouldn't have been able to afford the flight,' said Mary-Jess, who has a 17-year-old sister, Chez.

According to Mary-Jess, her singing talent is part of a family tradition.

6 'She was a real inspiration but my mum is my main inspiration. We even sing together in a duo when I am home.' For obvious reasons, her mother Liz was unable to watch her daughter triumph. 'I would have loved to be there but I saw some of the videos and seeing Mary-Jess in the limousine and on the red carpet was amazing,' she said. 'I'm just so proud of her and hope she can continue in the industry.'

4 Now use the highlighted words in A–G to help you decide where each sentence fits. Remember that one sentence is not needed.

- A This was the song that had won her that original 'best in show' title in Britain.
- B Although it pales into insignificance beside the amounts involved in The X Factor, this sum was still very welcome.
- C She has really missed her family and friends though.
- D However, it is no small-scale event, as the region has a population of 70 million.
- E Her grandmother was a semi-professional opera singer.
- F People keep on stopping the singing sensation in the street to ask for her autograph.
- G She has also made the headlines back in Britain.
