It was a very bright, sunny monday morning. The birds were singing sweetly outside my window on the julie mango tree. My dog rover barked at me. My brother renaldo was already up and brushing his teeth with his paw patrol toothbrush. Mum shouted yet again for me to get off my bed, so I crawled off lazily. I showered, brushed my teeth and asked ria, my sister, to help set up my laptop for class. Mum was still yelling trying to hustle me to get ready for online class with ms.stephen. I was so sleepy but then I thought about my dream and pictured my name on my office door stating 'dr.ricardo'. I smiled, hurried to eat my tuna sandwich and sat down at my desk all ready for mathematics class. melanie , christopher and javon were already online awaiting class.
