Here it is an email from Alicia who lives in America to her best friend, Tania. Tania is an Indonesian.

Dear my best friend, Tania

Hi, Tania. It has been so long not to see you. I miss you very much. I am on my holiday now.

Have you ever felt bored and have nothing to do with your holiday ? I also ever have such feeling. If you like to go abroad it is one of the nice destinations, The Grand Canyon. If you do not have time just have the following description and how I will expose it for you.

The canyons of America's Southwest are deep, ancient openings in the earth. They look as if they formed the earth split apart. But the canyons did not split.

You know, Tania I will take some photos of The Grand Canyon because it is one of the largest and most beautiful of all canyons. It extends 450 kilometers. Then I'd like to send you those beautiful photos. Of course, I am going to email it not by post, ha ha ha.

On the other side, sunshine lights up the naked rock walls in red, orange, and gold. The bright colors are the result of minerals in the rocks. Their appearance changes endlessly -- with the light, the time of year, and the weather. At sunset, when the Sun has moved across the sky, the Canyon walls give up their fiery reds and golds. They take on quieter colors of blue, purple, and green. I think it will be a masterpiece if I paint it on my canvas. Well, as you know that we are good at painting. I remember that we often paint a beautiful scenery in pairs. Looking at the same object and paint it together in one media. I am going to do it, too then.

The Grand Canyon has several weather environments. The top is often much different from the bottom. On some winter days, for example, you may find cold winds and snow at the top. But at the bottom, you may find warm winds and flowers. For such condition, I will take a jacket. Of course, I would like to have the one we together have. A nice blue silver jacket.

Well, Tania ...I think I have written much in my letter. Don't forget to reply it soon.

With love,

Alicia Kessel

TAJ MAHAL, A LOVE SYMBOL OF A HUSBAND TO HIS WIFE

The Taj Mahal of Agra is one of the Seven Wonders of the World, for reasons more than just looking magnificent. It's the history of Taj Mahal that adds a soul to its magnificence: a soul that is filled with love, loss, remorse, and love again. Because if it was not for love, the world would have been robbed of a fine example upon which people base their relationships. An example of how deeply a man loved his wife, that even after she remained but a memory, he made sure that this memory would never fade away. This man was the Mughal Emperor Shah Jahan, who was head-over-heels in love with Mumtaz Mahal, his dear wife. She was a Muslim Persian princess (her name Arjumand Banu Begum before marriage) and he was the son of the Mughal Emperor Jehangir and grandson of Akbar the Great. It was at the age of 14 that he met Mumtaz and fell in love with her. Five years later in the year 1612, they got married.

Mumtaz Mahal, an inseparable companion of Shah Jahan, died in 1631 while giving birth to their 14th child. It was in the memory of his beloved wife that Shah Jahan built a magnificent monument as a tribute to her, which we today know as the "Taj Mahal". The construction of Taj Mahal started in the year 1631.
