

Read the text and choose the right option:

Good at languages

At school Sarah Biggs says she was very bad at languages. She _____ (1) to attend lessons and she was constantly failing school exams. But surprisingly she has succeeded _____ (2) English, Spanish and Italian and works as a multilingual secretary in a travel company in England. Sarah comes from Spain, where she graduated from college. But it was time spent abroad after college _____ (3) encouraged her interest in languages. In her job, Sarah has _____ (4) more responsibility than the title of secretary would suggest. She emphasizes the advantage _____ (5) fluent in Spanish because part of her job is dealing with customers from Latin America. However, this sometimes makes her _____ (6) stressed. When such clients come from abroad, she is _____ (7) to translate everything they say into English, without any preparation at all. _____ (8), this aspect of her job is one of the most difficult. It is important for Sarah _____ (9) up-to-date with changes in her own languages, so she reads Spanish newspapers and books _____ (10) improve her vocabulary. Sarah says she would not give up this job even if they offered her a better salary in another company.