When I wake up in the morning, the first thing I do is hears my stomach rumble. All because I usually had my last meal at 6 P.M., and the next morning I am as hungry as a wolf. That's why my morning routine include having breakfast as a first step. This be probably my favorite time of the day, when I just sit at the table and enjoying the meal and a cup of hot coffee. I try not to watch the news, as the news are usually about something bad that has happened in the world and I want to have a peaceful time. I am allowed to have some, amn't I? Anyways, my next step be to brush my teeth, wash my face and prepare for work. I often take a cab and it take me 30 minutes to get to the office. My boss is always the first one to arrives there, so I can't be late. But of course, despite that fact, it happens from time to time.
