Little Flap felt happy. He could fly well. He found a big juicy worm and shared it with his friends. Now little Flap likes flying!

Little Flap's friends lived in the nest next to him. The birds wanted to get their own worms so they had to learn to fly. Flap looked down and felt scared because the ground seemed far away.

Fluff practiced flapping her wings to make them strong. Tuff and Little Flap watched and copied her. Flap said he didn't want to get hurt. Tuff and Fluff told Flap to depend on them because they could rescue him.
