Useful vocabulary: GET

It is a very used and versatile verb; it is very common and has different meanings:

- Before a noun it usually means receive, obtain, buy or catch
  (Ex: Get a present/get a taxi)
- Before an adjective it means become (example: get angry)
  It is not used in very formal written

Match the questions with the meaning of get in the box

1. How many emails from your students do you usually get every day?

2. What time do you get home after work?

3. Did you get a taxi to be on time today?

4. Where did you get your laptop?

5. Do you usually get anxious before an exam?

6. When did you get your first job?

arrive	buy	become	receive	obtain	catch

Complete the sentences with the phrases in the box

1. Spring is here! The days are _____ warmer.

2. Send her the birthday present today so she can _____ it tomorrow.

3. My boots are very old. I´m going to _____ on Friday.

4. There´s no bread at home. Could you _____ on your way from work?

5. I applied for the job and finally I _____ it.

Get a new pair	got	get some	getting	get