

Reading ComprehensionTea

People all over the world drink tea. The history of tea is very interesting. Shen Nung, a Chinese king, discovered tea more than 4000 years ago.

He was boiling a pot of water in his garden. He was standing under a brush. Suddenly, some of the leaves from brush fell into the water and began to cook. The smell of this cooked water was sweet and the taste was delicious. Shen Nung discovered tea. Tea became popular all over the world. In 1904, a man named Thomas Sullivan found an easier way to make tea. He put his tea leaves into small silk bags. It was easier to make the tea when it was in a bag.

Thomas Sullivan sold the first tea bags and people loved them! Today tea comes in different flavors like peach or mango. Some people add mint leaves, milk, sugar or a bit of lemon juice to regular tea. Some people like to drink iced tea in the summer.
