D) Read the passage and then answer the questions below, referring to the passage:

That was the third night in a row I couldn't sleep. The people who lived above us had recently bought a dog. This animal, which was outside all day, was brought in at night and didn't stop howling once it was inside. This was the same dog whose muddy paws made a terrible mess in the hall and on the stairs, which did, after all, belong to everyone in the building. I hadn't said anything to the owners of the dog about the mud, which could be cleaned up. But the noise, which was unbearable, was another matter. Something would have to be done about it. The neighbors, all of whom were disturbed by the noise which the dog made, chose me to go and speak to the owners of the dog. So at 3 o'clock in the morning I stood outside the door of their 4th floor apartment and knocked at the door. The dog, which up to that moment had been howling, was now growling. And the voice of the person who asked "Who's there?" didn't sound any friendlier.
