

Singular Possessive Nouns

A possessive noun is noun that possesses/owns/has something.

The dog's bed = bed of the dog.

To show possession for a singular noun (for example, one dog),
an apostrophe is added before the s.

The dog's bed

Rewrite each sentence using a singular possessive noun.

Example: The tyre of my car is flat. → My car's tyre is flat.

1. I can see the house of my friend.

---

2. The tail of my dog is knocks things over.

---

3. The lunchbox of Grace is blue.

---

4. The net of the fisherman is caught on the rocks.

---

5. The skin of a frog can be slimy.

---

6. The teacher of Mark is Mr Sims.

---

7. The shirt of the boy was ripped playing football.

---

8. The light of the fridge is broken.

---