In the school holidays Michael watched television every day. He sat on the sofa in the living room and ate popcorn. He watched cartoons, films, comedies, the news, the weather – everything!

One day his father got very angry. 'Michael, you need to find a (1) _____,' he said. 'Join a club. Learn a musical instrument. Draw. Do something!'

The next day, Michael went to the park. He saw a boy on a high wall. 'What are you doing?' Michael asked. 'I'm free running,' the boy said. 'Wow! That (2) _____ really cool!' said Michael.

Michael learned how to run, jump and climb walls and buildings with his new friend. Together they went everywhere in the town centre. He didn't watch TV any more so his (3) _____ was happy.

One day, Michael fell and broke his arm. When he arrived at the hospital, a doctor called his father. 'Your son has (4) _____ his arm. He should stay at home for three weeks.'

Michael spent three weeks at home. Every day he lay in bed, ate popcorn and watched television. 'Oh, Michael,' his father said. 'Why didn't you learn to (5) _____ chess?'

The jellyfish joke

Vicky was often a naughty girl and she did horrible things to her brothers. For example, she put salt – instead of sugar – in their tea. She put toy spiders in their beds. She liked anything that made her laugh.

One Sunday she and her family were at the beach. It was a hot and sunny day, so everyone was in the sea. 'Come on,' she told her younger brothers. 'Let's go in the water!' In her hand she was holding a plastic bag, but no-one saw it.

When they were swimming in the sea she put her plastic bag in the water. It looked like a jellyfish! 'Help! Help!' she shouted, pointing at the bag. 'There's a jellyfish in the sea! Quick! Get out of the water!'

People started to scream. Her brothers were really scared. Soon, everyone was jumping out of the water and running to the sand. 'Jellyfish!' they shouted, but Vicky was laughing. She stayed in the sea. 'Mmm. This is great,' she thought. 'No-one else is in the sea. Just me!'

Suddenly she looked behind her. She saw a big jellyfish next to her foot and it wasn't her plastic bag. It was a real one. 'Help! Help!' she cried. She was really scared now. Her mother ran into the water and rescued her quickly. When Vicky was on the beach, she was sad. 'I'm sorry, Mum. That was a silly game.' Some of the people on the beach looked angry. 'I feel terrible,' she said.
