

TENSES

1. Circle the correct options to complete the first part of the article.

Life-Saving Teenager

15-year-old Henry Pulman comes / is coming / was coming from a small seaside village. He loves / is loving / loved the water and he regularly swims / was swimming / swum in the sea with his friends.

One day, Henry and his friends played / play / were playing on the beach when they heard / are hearing / were hearing shouts from someone. 'I see / saw / was seeing a boy in the sea and he calls / was calling / called for help,' said Henry. 'He sounded very scared.'

Henry wore / was wearing / is wearing swimming shorts. He is going / was going / went straight into the water while his friends called / were calling / call the emergency services.

2. Complete the second part of the article with the present simple, present continuous, past simple or past continuous form of the verbs in brackets.

The boy in the water was 12-year-old Jamie Jones. 'At first, I was enjoying the rough sea,' Jamie (say) later. 'Then the water (start) to pull me and I got frightened so I (shout) for help.'

Suddenly I (see) Henry in the water near me. I (be) very happy to see him. 'The sea here is very rough and dangerous', he explained to me.

'I can't help you swim back to the beach, but a man (come) here on a boat. He (take) us to the beach.' While we (wait) for the boat Henry chatted to me and (keep) me calm. I (believe) he saved my life.

The experience (have) a big effect on Henry. A few weeks ago, I (not know) what job I would like to do. Now, I (want) to train as a lifeguard. I (see) all the films that star lifeguards. Next week I'm meeting a lifeguard at the local swimming pool and she is going to talk to me about the job.