

PART I: On Sunday, there is a barbecue party for Jane at her grandparent's house. Listen to the dialogue and fill in the gaps with suitable words .

vegetable about party tomatoes beef
oranges shopping bread many children juice honey number fridge phone

Grandpa: Honey, let's prepare a list for the barbecue party. What have we got in the?

Grandma: Well, there is some chicken and fish but there isn't any Grandpa: OK. Some chicken is the number one on the list. Have we got any fruit?

Grandma: Yes, there are some but there aren't any bananas or apples.

Grandpa: Good. How many oranges have we got?

Grandma: Twelve.

Grandpa:two is 12 bananas and apples. Whatthe drinks? Have we got any fizzy drink?

Grandma: No, we haven't got any fizzy drink but we have got some fruit

Grandpa: Good. Number four is fizzy drinks. How much lettuce is there in the fridge?

Grandma: Oh, we have got some lettuce but there aren't many cucumbers or tomatoes. We need three cucumbers and some tomatoes.

Grandpa: Then, number five, three cucumbers and number six some tomatoes. Oh, what time are children here?

Grandma:? Oh, they haven't got any idea about the barbecue

Grandpa: Then, number one is the children now, honey.

PART II: Match the questions with the answers

1. Why are they preparing a shopping list?
2. Who will call the children?
3. When and where is the party?
4. Which fruits haven't they got?
5. Are they going to buy any fruit juice? Sunday.

- Grandma.
Bananas or apples.
For barbecue party.
No, they aren't.
At Jane's grandparents house on Sunday.