Task I - READING

Five years ago my classmates and I finished secondary school. On the last day, we promised to meet again exactly five years later and see how everyone is going. This week we kept our promise. So what's become of our class?

Matthew's a musician. No surprises there – that's what he always wanted to do. Back at school, he was completely focused on his music and his only dream was to become a concert pianist. And right now he is preparing for a series of concerts in the USA.

I remember Krishni as a very hardworking student who always got good marks and set herself clear goals. She's going to be a dentist in six months' time – she's just finishing his degree.

Danny was another good student. He works for a big company now, earns a good salary and he's just got promotion ... but he seems a bit bored. But he didn't tell us much about his work.

Dean has always liked football more than studying. Well, guess what? He's running a local football club for children. He's a great coach, the kids love him and he's making quite a lot of money!

Rachel says she still thinking about what to do in her life. She travels a lot! She's already been to India, Iran, South Africa, Iceland and about a million other places. She's already had several jobs. Right now she's preparing for a trip to Nepal. She's the one who's really enjoying life.

And what about me? I'm studying to be a journalist. I've just applied for a job with one of national newspapers; until I hear from them, I'm still writing for The Campus Courier.
