

English Language

Topic: Homonyms and Homographs

Homonyms are two words that have the same sound and the spelling, but different meanings.

Examples: i) ear and ear.

One refers to an ear of corn, the other to a human organ responsible for hearing.

ii) break and brake

One refers to needing a time out, the referring to something to a part on a car.

Homographs are words that have the same spelling, but different meanings and different pronunciations.

Examples: i) wind and wind.

One refers to a blowing breeze, while the other refers to the act of turning a crank.

ii) wave and wave

One refers to movement of water in the ocean, while the other refers to a person moving their arm.

Instructions: Read the following sentences below and then write either homonym or homograph in the space provided.

1a. I'm sure I'm right.

1b. Take a right turn at the intersection.

2a. Her heart was pounding in her chest.

2b. In our family, we should have a medicine chest.

3a. You have to teach him that getting wreck is not a good thing.

3b. Where does the bad reek comes from.

4a. We played dice all night.

4b. You move forward according to the number on the dice.

5a. Can you give us 50 cents?

5b. Can you smell the scent that is coming from that room.

6a. Every file on the same disk must have a different name.

6b. We began to file out into the car park.

7a. I wish you the best chance during your exam on Wednesday.

7b. Today will listen to the chants that the cheerleaders are saying.

8a. Opposition leaders were quick to exploit government embarrassment over the incident.

8b. His courage and exploit were legendary.

- 9a. Mrs. Tonny was allowed at work today.
9b. The students spoke aloud during class time.

- 10a. She has a new dog.
10b. Dad knew how to make omelettes.