

My Music

Present Perfect for experiences

Listen to the conversation between Alan and Lucy. Drag and drop the words in the correct spaces.

ALAN: Have you ever been to a music festival, Lucy?

LUCY: Yes, I have. I've _____ to lots, actually. The last one I went to was in Denmark.

A: Oh, right. Who did you see there?

L: I saw R.E.M. and the Black Eyed Peas. They were brilliant! Have you ever _____ them live?

A: No, I haven't. I don't really like rock or hip hop, actually. I prefer _____ or jazz.

L: I like some classical music. I occasionally listen to Mozart when I'm at home on my own. But most of the time I listen to rock, hip hop and _____ music. A Right.

L: And what about you? Have you been to a music festival?

A: No, I _____.

L: OK. And have you ever been _____?

A: No, never. I don't really like dance music or anything like that.

L: Oh, but listening to dance music in a club is a fantastic experience. You don't know what you're missing. We should go together sometime.

A: Yes, maybe. And how about jazz? Have you ever been to a _____?

L: Yes, I've been to one or two.

A: Oh, I've been to hundreds. Live jazz is just amazing. Have you ever _____ of Miles Davis?

L: No, I haven't. Who's he?

A: Seriously, you've never heard of him? He was a brilliant jazz _____. You obviously don't know anything about real music. Right. Your musical education starts with Miles Davis.

L: And yours starts with, um, Fatboy Slim. A Fatboy who?

L: Fatboy Slim. He's one of the most famous _____ in the world. Don't you know anything?
