

Mohammed is a quiet person who worked hard over the summer and saved $3500 for Keyano College tuition. He has always wanted to study an engineering trade. Recently he was accepted into the program and should pay $3500 tuition by the deadline date for application, December 21st, 2020. His studies will commence in January 2018. However, now he is confused. His best friend Ryan is a very outgoing person who asked him to go to Vancouver for the weekend to enjoy time at a music concert and then go skiing in the mountains for a week.

Mohammed knows education is important, but he has never been invited by a friend to go on a vacation. The problem is he can't afford both. If he goes to Vancouver, he won't have enough money for College. It will take another year to save enough money for tuition. He doesn't know what to do. He has a difficult decision to make.
