

Directions: Change each present tense verb to past tense. Then, underneath each past tense verb, write how to pronounce the -ed ending. Your choices are: /t/; /d/; or /ɪd/.

An example is done for you.

Yesterday I walked (walk) home from school with my little sister. /t/ She _____ (ask) me, "Can you help me with my math homework? I _____ (want) to watch TV instead, but I _____ (answer), "Sure, no problem." After we _____ (arrive) home, we _____ (talk) about her math homework. I _____ (help) her with the hardest problems. She _____ (cry), "Oh, thank you so much!" Then I _____ (play) video games until bed. I _____ (realize) that I can help other people AND still have fun!
