

Word building

Complete the text with the correct form of the words on the right.
The first one is done for you as an example.

Bag it
It is the question of romance that has taxed some of the greatest minds: what matters more — ¹ or personality?
Now the Science Museum has sought to answer the conundrum — by getting _____ ² to go speed-dating with a paper bag over their heads.
The 60 singles at the event could only make a good _____ ³ on fellow daters by using their personality, and by writing one fact about themselves on their paper bag. Examples include “I have got 3 kidneys” and “My secret ambition is to be a hand model”	0. romantic
Scientists aimed to discover if, amid the rise of the selfie and the popularity of dating apps based on appearance, people are becoming _____ ⁴ superficial when choosing a date.	1. look
Psychologist Andrea Kallias said she wanted to see if conversation rather than looks can drive dating decisions. “My argument is that personality and other human qualities are more important than looks alone,” she added.	2. London
“We _____ ⁵ that, if you get on well with someone in conversation you will feel _____ ⁶ about what they look like and go on a first date. But it is an experiment and we will see what happens.” The men and women’s arrivals and _____ ⁷ at the museum were by separate doors to _____ ⁸ they did not see each other.	3. impress
Each person had two minutes to talk to each other, and at the end of the night filled in a form to say who they wanted to go on a date with. They then left the venue — without ever finding out what the other people looked like.	4. increase
Today the _____ ⁹ will receive an email telling them if they have any matches, and must decide whether the personality of their match impressed them enough that they will go out and meet them face to face. The evening was part of Science Museum Lates, a once-a-month event during which the venue in South Kensington stays open into the evening for adults.	5. hypothesis
	6. curious
	7. depart
	8. sure
	9. participate