

Romanesque art and architecture

A.

From the 11th century, a new artistic style originating in Italy and France became very influential in many parts of Europe. This style was called _____.

Romanesque architecture consisted of churches, _____ and monasteries.

Painting and _____ were exclusively dedicated to the Church and made use of religious symbolism.

B.

Name these types of Romanesque art and architecture.

