Read the text below and mark the statements true (T) or false (F).

'Open Happiness'

One of the strongest global products today is 'Coca-Cola', which is generally referred to simply as Coke. The drink's name refers to two of its original ingredients, which were kola nuts (a source of caffeine) and coca leaves. Coke was originally invented by a pharmacist called Dr Pemberton in 1886. Pemberton was producing syrup for a new drink when he accidentally added carbonated water. The result was a soft drink that was described as both delicious and refreshing. During its first year Pemberton sold just nine bottles per day, but from these small beginnings 'Coca-Cola' gradually grew into the world's largest manufacturer of soft drinks. The Coca-Cola Company has also introduced other cola drinks under the Coke name. The most common of these is Diet Coke, along with others including Coca-Cola Cherry, Coca-Cola Zero, Coca-Cola Vanilla, and special limited versions with lemon, lime, and coffee.

Every day, 'Coca-Cola' products are served more than 1.8 billion times to people in more than 200 countries. In Great Britain alone over 10 billion 'Coca-Cola' products are consumed each year. In fact in many countries soft drinks have become more popular than traditional drinks. Tea used to be Britain's number one drink, but today the average British person drinks 188 litres of soft drinks a year, but only 157 litres of tea.

Why is 'Coca-Cola' so popular? The main reason is its powerful marketing. The Coca-Cola Company sponsors global events like the FIFA World Cup, Olympic Games and European Championships. From Beijing to Boston, people know the 'Coca-Cola' brand. They see it on their televisions, in magazines and on supermarket shelves. Positive slogans such as 'Things go better with Coke', 'Open Happiness' and 'Coke is It' associate 'Coca-Cola' with good experiences and feeling happy. Yet although Coca-Cola is an American Company, only a third of its sales are in North America. Most of its sales are from the rest of the world. Which is the number one drink? 'Coke is It'
