

such (a / an)

a) Drag each phrase next to its description:

heroes

cold weather

a determined man

a genius

an idiot

generosity

funny comedians

singular countable noun beginning with a consonant → _____ singular countable noun beginning with a vowel → _____ adjective + singular countable noun → _____ adjective + plural noun → _____

adjective + uncountable noun → _____

uncountable noun → _____ plural noun → _____

b) Study these rules:

1. We use "such a/an" in front of a singular count noun.
2. We use "such" in front of plural or uncount nouns.

In short: if you can say "a fool", then you say "such a fool!"

c) Choose the correct option to complete these sentences:

a determined man → Gandhi was _____ determined man!

a genius → Leonardo da Vinci was _____ genius!

an idiot → Donald Trump can be _____ idiot!

cold weather → It is _____ cold weather in these mountains!

funny comedians → The Long Johns are _____ funny comedians!

generosity → These volunteers show _____ generosity!

heroes → Those missionaries are _____ heroes!