Drag and drop the words from the box into the sentences.

understating	underprivileged	understating	overstated
overdressed	underrated	undercharging	overestimate
undercharged	underdone	underused	overrate
understatement	overstated	understated	overstaffed
understaffed	overused	underexposed	underestimate
underdressed	undernourished	understates	overstating
underrate	understatement

1. I think you are _____ the importance of a stable home life to young people.
2. The use of the official rate hugely _____ exports and imports, and distorts year-on-year comparisons.
3. Never _____your power to change yourself. Never _____ your power to change others.
4. First, the agency may seek to expand a given government programme by systematically _____ the benefits or _____ the costs.
5. To say that I was surprised by this state of affairs would be an _____.
6. Diversity is an _____ when it comes to describing the array of personalities in the field of photography
7. The importance of a child's early years cannot be _____(=is very important)
8. For a man so _____ personally, he is surprisingly _____ professionally.
9. In ten years' time, more than 600 million people are expected to be severely _____.
10. The city is grossly_____ (=charging far too little) companies to use the land.
11. I feel rather _____ in this suit everyone else is wearing jeans!

12. The sales assistant made a mistake and _____ me by £2.
13. No wonder the firm makes a loss; the office is terribly _____.
14. Let your friends _____ your advantage, while let your enemies _____ your disadvantage.
15. Rush hour crowding was a serious hazard, and the station was 39 percent _____.
16. These potatoes are _____ - I'll put them back in the oven.
17. Though I was a bit _____ in a pair of cotton pants and a damp leather jacket I decided to step in and say hello.
18. Since the main hospital was built, the local clinics have been rather _____.
19. Infected rates are high among urban elites as well as among the poor and _____.
20. In my opinion, fennel is an _____ vegetable - few people realize how delicious it is!
21. Photos taken by compact cameras are often dark because they're slightly _____.
22. 'Just Do It' has become one of the most _____ catch phrases in recent memory.