PRESENT PERFECT OR PAST SIMPLE?

Correct the mistakes in the sentences below and write them again.

- 1. Have you been to Thailand ever?
- 2. I've had sausages for lunch yesterday
- 3. She's enjoyed herself at the party last night.
- 4. I've read that book but I didn't like it much.
- 5. Tom has left school one year ago.
- 6. My cousins have lived in Dublin for they've been children.
- 7. We have work here for a year and a half.
- 8. My parents didn't lived in Britain for a couple of years.
- 9. James has made a cake yesterday.
- 10. I washed the car. It looks great now.

Use the past simple or the present perfect.

1. I (not attend)		any parties since I came here.
2. I (go)	to a party at Sally's apartment last Saturday night.
3. Bill (arrive)	here three days ago.
4. Bill (be)	here since the 22nd.
5. Try not to be absent from	class again for the	e rest of the term. You (miss, already) too many classes	s. You (miss)
	two classes just last week.
6. Last January, I (see)		snow for the first time in my life.
7. In her whole lifetime, she (see, never)	snow.
8. I (know)		Greg Adams for ten years.
9. So far this week, I (have)		two tests and a quiz.
10.Up to now, Professor Williams (give)		our class five tests.
11. The science of medicine (advance)		a great deal in the 19th century.
12. Since the beginning of th	e 20th century, me	edical scientists (make)
ma	ny important disco	overies.